Chadwick's journey began in 2010, when she set out from San Francisco in her 34-foot sailboat, Swell. She had been sailing for over 20 years, but this was her first solo voyage. She sailed down the coast of South America, through the treacherous waters of the Southern Ocean, and around Cape Horn. She then continued on to Antarctica, the Falkland Islands, and South Georgia. Chadwick's journey was not without its challenges. She faced storms, icebergs, and loneliness. But she also experienced the beauty of the natural world, the camaraderie of other sailors, and the satisfaction of accomplishing her dream.

In Solo Around Cape Horn and Beyond, Chadwick shares her story with honesty and humor. She writes about the challenges she faced, the lessons she learned, and the personal growth she experienced. She also provides practical advice for other sailors who are considering a solo voyage. Solo Around Cape Horn and Beyond is an inspiring story of adventure, self-reliance, and the power of dreams.
